Brianne Jenner, RBC Olympian

Brianne Jenner first wore the Maple Leaf internationally as a member of Canada's Under-18 team in 2008. Jenner began her National Women's Team career in 2009 when she was centralized for the 2010 Vancouver Olympic Games. Her achievements include playing for Canada at 5 World Championships and scoring an important late game goal to help win the Gold Medal at the Sochi Olympic Winter Games. Defining a Scholar-Athlete, Jenner's career at Cornell University included being a 4-time All-Academic Ivy League winner, being named by Business Insider as one of Cornell's "19 Most Impressive Students", claiming two ECAC Player of the Year and two First Team All-American honours and culminated with being the Ivy League nominee for the NCAA Woman of the Year Award. Brianne was born in Oakville, Ontario, played her minor hockey in St. Catharines, and now resides in Calgary.
