Laura Brown, RBC Olympian

Laura currently resides in Vancouver, BC, but grew up in Alberta, where she started as a competitive gymnast at the age of three. As a result of a back injury in her teen years, she switched sports and began cycling at the Olympic Oval National Cycling Centre in Calgary. After spending several years in the development program there, she moved to the West Coast of Canada to attend the University of Victoria, British Columbia, where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree, as well as pursued her new passion. Over the past decade, Laura has raced on many international stages. Laura has also been a professional road racer since 2012. In her spare time she enjoys cooking, volunteering and spending time outdoors hiking, rock climbing and chasing waterfalls.

RBC® sponsors amateur sport, from grassroots programs in local communities to national sport associations and elite-level athletes. Since 1947, RBC has been Canada's longest-standing supporter of the Canadian Olympic Team.
