

RBC 2010 Flag Tour Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is the RBC 2010 Flag Tour?

A: RBC, in partnership with VANOC, is bringing Canadians the RBC 2010 Flag Tour. The Tour is a national traveling exhibit designed to give Canadians a chance to experience the excitement and spirit of the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games and rally the nation in support of Canada's Olympians and Paralympians in anticipation of the Vancouver 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games.

2. What does the Flag represent?

A: The RBC 2010 Flag Tour is symbolic of the passage of the Olympic Flag from the City of Torino to the City of Vancouver. The exhibition will include an Olympic Flag given by the International Olympic Committee for use exclusively in the RBC 2010 Flag Tour to give Canadians across the country the opportunity to share in the celebration of Canada's Games.

3. Is this the same Flag handed over at the end of the Torino 2006 Winter Games to the City of Vancouver?

A: The exhibition will include an Olympic Flag provided by the International Olympic Committee for use exclusively in the RBC 2010 Flag Tour to give Canadians across the country the opportunity to share in the celebration of Canada's Games.

4. What is there to do at the Tour?

A: This free event is fun for the whole family. It's an opportunity to welcome the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games to Canada and raise excitement and anticipation for the Vancouver 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games.

This is an interactive exhibition traveling across Canada where you can meet Canadian Olympians and Paralympians, test your skills in different winter sports and learn about Canada's past, present and future Olympian and Paralympians.

5. Where can I see the Tour?

A: The Tour is traveling to Halifax, Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver. In addition to the exhibit, RBC in partnership with VANOC, will be providing business seminars and school visits in other cities across the country. Once these cities are confirmed, they will be posted to our website at www.rbc.com/2010flagtour.

6. What will I see at the Tour?

A: The RBC 2010 Flag Tour brings the experiences and excitement of the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games to Canadians. The Tour features many opportunities for Canadians to experience the excitement and fun of the Olympic Winter Games, including a snowboard simulator, games testing ice hockey skills, interactive experiences and displays demonstrating the extraordinary training regimen of world class athletes.

In addition, Olympians and Paralympians will be on hand to sign autographs and talk to Canadians about their Olympic and Paralympic Games experiences and accomplishments.

7. Why is RBC doing this Tour?

A: As the longest-standing corporate sponsor of the Canadian Olympic Team and Premier National Partner of the Vancouver 2010 Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games, RBC wants to help build excitement surrounding the Olympic Movement in Canada and rally the nation in support of the Canada's Olympians and Paralympians on the road to 2010.
