

Mark Standish

Co-Group Head, Capital Markets and Investor & Treasury Services

BIOGRAPHY

Mark Standish is co-group head, Capital Markets and Investor & Treasury Services and is a member of the Group Executive of RBC.

As co-group head of RBC Capital Markets, Mr. Standish is responsible for sales and trading, financing and balance sheet management. Mr. Standish's tenure with RBC began in 1995 as head of proprietary and structured trading within the Global Equity Derivatives group of RBC Dominion Securities. From 1993 until 1995, Mr. Standish was a managing director at Kidder Peabody & Company. Preceding Kidder Peabody, Mr. Standish was with Lehman Brothers in New York responsible for equity derivatives, commodity derivatives and commodity financing.

During the 1980's, he was with Bankers Trust in London involved with fixed income derivatives and proprietary arbitrage trading. He started his career in retail banking with National Westminster Bank in 1977. He studied banking and finance at Croydon College in England, being an Associate member, Chartered Institute of Bankers (1983). Mr. Standish is on the Boards of the National Academy Foundation, the Film Society of Lincoln Center, The Queen Elizabeth II, September 11 Garden, and is a Trustee of the Board Big Brother Big Sisters of New York City.

January 2013
