

Keep it private

A streetcar passes through the scene. We hear ZHANG's voice off screen, from within the streetcar.

Kevin

3 stops to go.

Zhang

Puck drops in twenty minutes!

Kevin

I almost feel sorry for you, Zhang. You gotta know your guys are losing to the Carps tonight!

Kevin

We're killing your Chipmunks on defense.

Zhang

Squirrels!

Zhang

We're the Flying Squirrels! I know you remember the name, because I posted it on my profile page. See?

Kevin

Uh, Zhang, you might want to be a little more careful about who can see your screen in public.

Zhang

What? Oh.

Zhang

My friend thinks you might be looking at my screen.

Kevin

I think we have different ideas about what the word "careful" means.

Zhang

Ha! Did you see the pictures I posted last week when I was away at the annual Squirrel's Nest retreat? I totally won the dance-off!

Kevin

Yeah, unfortunately, I did see those. You really should be more careful about posting stuff like that.

Zhang

Dancing?

Kevin

No. Anything that lets people know you are away from home.

Zhang

Oh.

Kevin

Because if someone wanted to know where you lived, here's a picture of your house. AND you left geotagging on when you took the picture. - Meaning anyone could find out exactly where your home is.

Zhang

Is there anything else on my profile page that shouldn't be there?

Kevin

Your birthday.

Zhang

Oh, but I love getting birthday messages...

Kevin

Do you love having your identity stolen? Your birth date is one of the key pieces of information scammers need to impersonate you.

Zhang

Oh.

Kevin

I can also see your email address – your phone number— your mother's maiden name —all things people can use to steal your identity.

Zhang

Yeah, yeah, but hold on! You can only see those things because you're my friend. I have my privacy settings set to the highest level so people I don't know can't see that stuff.

Kevin

Zhang, you have over 1,500 friends... What do you think the odds are that every single one of their accounts is completely secure?

Zhang

Well...

Kevin

What if one of your friends gets their account hijacked? Your profile will be wide open to anyone who has their password.

Zhang

I do actually know some people that happened to...

Kevin

And while we're at it... 1,500 friends? Really? Do you actually know that many people?

Zhang

Well, I haven't met all of them...

Kevin

It's about discretion Zhang, you have to be really careful about keeping things private. In conversations AND on screens.

Kevin

You never know who's watching or listening.

Headphone Man

Hey man, that was great advice. Thank you.

Zhang

You WERE listening!

Headphone Man

So, YOU guys were hockey players in college?!

Zhang & Kevin

No! We were the mascots!

END.
