PROHIBITION OF SALES TO EEA RETAIL INVESTORS – Other than with respect to offers of the Notes in any jurisdiction(s) for which a key information document under Regulation (EU) No. 1286/2014 (as amended, the "PRIIPs Regulation") has been drawn up, the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area ("EEA"). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II"); or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129. Consequently, save as provided above, no key information document required by the PRIIPs Regulation for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is either one (or both) of the following: (i) not a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No. 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 ("EUWA") or (ii) not a qualified investor as defined in paragraph 15 of Schedule 1 to the Public Offers and Admissions to Trading Regulations 2024 ("POATRs"). Consequently, save as provided above, no disclosure document required by DISC for offering, selling or distributing the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering, selling or distributing the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under DISC and the Consumer Composite Investments (Designated Activities) Regulations 2024.

PROHIBITION OF OFFER TO PRIVATE CLIENTS IN SWITZERLAND - Other than for the duration of the listing of the Notes on SIX Swiss Exchange for which a key information document according to the Swiss Federal Financial Services Act ("FinSA") or an equivalent document under FinSA has been prepared, the Notes are not intended to be offered or recommended to private clients within the meaning of FinSA in Switzerland. What are the key risks that are specific to the Issuer?

Business and Economic Conditions: The Issuer's financial results are affected to varying degrees by the general business and economic conditions in the geographic regions in which the Issuer operates. These conditions may include factors such as: economic growth or contraction trends; consumer saving and spending habits, consumer and corporate borrowing and repayment patterns, unemployment rates; the differing economic trajectories among nations across the globe, global tensions and geopolitical uncertainty and conflicts; the level of business investment and overall business sentiment; trade policy developments; the emergence of a new pandemic outbreak or other health crisis; the level of government spending, including developments relating to tariffs and trade agreements, as well as fiscal and monetary policy; the level of activity and volatility of the financial markets; disruptions to energy and other commodity markets; competitiveness; supply chain challenges and labour shortages; the evolution of inflationary pressures; and possible stagflation or deflation. Moreover, interest rate changes and actions taken by central banks to manage inflation, deflation or the broader economy have implications for the Issuer. The Issuer's financial results are sensitive to changes in interest rates, as described in the "Government fiscal, monetary and other policies" section below. For example, certain sectors, economies and markets have been adversely impacted by uncertainty generated by geopolitical shocks, such as protectionist trade policy developments, which continue to evolve. In addition, governments may face increasing fiscal challenges due to high debt-loads, ongoing deficits, higher spending pressures, and changing demographic and immigration trends. These fiscal challenges may limit future crisis response tools for governments and lead to higher taxes, spending cuts and adverse economic, market, credit and/or liquidity impacts. Moreover, monetary policy uncertainty, due to central bank challenges through a period of potential trade- or supply-related inflationary pressures, could increase economic, credit and market risks. A slowdown in economic growth or an economic downturn could adversely impact employment rates and household incomes, consumer spending, housing prices, corporate earnings and business investment, all of which could adversely affect the Issuer's business, including, but not limited to, the demand for its loan and other products, and result in lower earnings and higher credit losses. There are also emerging risks related to technological developments and wealth and income inequality, as well as the broader implications of changing demographics and immigration, which could impact the labour market, productivity, the housing market, inflation, demand and consumer trends, and potentially have widespread societal and government policy implications.

Information Technology, Cyber and Third-Party Risks: Information technology risk, cyber risk and third-party risk remain top risks, not only for the financial services sector, but for other industries worldwide. Geopolitical tensions have increased the risk of nation state actors attacking critical infrastructure, including banks and critical third parties. Information technology risk is the risk associated with the use, ownership, operation and adoption of information systems that can result in business interruptions, client service disruptions and loss of confidential information causing financial loss, reputational damage and regulatory fines and penalties. Cybersecurity risk is the risk to the Issuer associated with cyberattacks initiated to disrupt or disable its operations or to expose or damage data. The Issuer continues to be subject to heightened inherent risk of cyberattacks, data breaches, cyber extortion and similar compromises, due to: (i) the size, scale, and global nature of its operations; (ii) its heavy reliance on the internet to conduct day-to-day business activities; (iii) its intricate technological infrastructure; and (iv) its reliance on third-party service providers. Third-party risk is a risk that arises if and when there is a failure to effectively manage third parties which may expose the Issuer to service disruptions, regulatory action, financial loss, litigation or reputational damage. The Issuer's exposure to information technology, cyber and third-party risks increases as it continues to partner with third-party service providers and adopt new business models and technologies (e.g., cloud computing, software-as-a-service ("SAAS"), generative artificial intelligence ("GenAI") and machine learning). Threat actors gravitate towards vulnerabilities in an ecosystem, and the weakest link in the supply chain can be a supplier or third-party service provider that may not have sufficiently robust controls. Other key drivers of third-party risk include global economic pressures related to inflation, and concentration of suppliers and fourth parties (i.e. suppliers of the Issuer's third-party providers) within the broader supply chain. Third-party providers critical to the Issuer's operations are actively monitored for impacts on their ability to deliver services to the Issuer, including impacts resulting from fourth parties. Ransomware threats continue to grow in sophistication and ransomware is being used to launch major supply chain attacks. Resulting implications could include business interruptions, client service disruptions, financial loss, theft of intellectual property and confidential information, litigation, enhanced regulatory attention and penalties, as well as reputational damage. Furthermore, the adoption of emerging technologies, such as cloud computing, AI, including GenAI and robotics, call for continued focus and investment to manage risks effectively. Failure to effectively manage these risks may have an adverse impact on the Issuer's financial performance and condition.

Privacy, Data and Third Party Related Risks: Information management risk is the risk of failing to manage information appropriately through its lifecycle due to inadequate processes, controls and technology, resulting in legal and regulatory consequences, reputational damage and/or financial loss.Privacy risk is defined as the risk of improper creation or collection, use, disclosure, retention or destruction of personal information ("PI"), including the failure to safeguard PI against unauthorized access. PI is information entrusted to the Issuer that identifies an individual or can be reasonably used to identify an individual. PI can relate to current, former and prospective clients, employees and contractors. The protection and responsible use of PI are critical to maintaining the Issuer's clients' trust. In addition, the management and governance of the Issuer's data also remains a top risk given the high value attributed to its data for the insights it can generate for clients and communities. Resulting implications from failing to manage data and privacy risks could include financial loss, theft of intellectual property and/or confidential information, litigation, enhanced regulatory attention and penalties, reputational damage and damaged client and employee trust. With the proliferation of artificial intelligence (“AI”), privacy regulators globally have begun issuing guidance around ensuring appropriate use of AI when processing personal information, in addition to guardrails around transparency and ensuring the rights of the individual are respected in the context of AI systems. Adherence to these guidelines and guardrails and trusted integration into existing privacy programs continues to be a focal area for the Issuer.

Regulatory Changes: The ongoing introduction of new or revised regulations requires enhanced focus across the organization on meeting additional or modified regulatory requirements and expectations across the multiple jurisdictions in which the Issuer operates. See business segment results on pages 32 to 59 of the 2025 MD&A and pages 11 to 19 of the Second Quarter 2026 MD&A incorporated by reference in the Base Prospectus for information on the Issuer's business segments and the jurisdictions in which it operates. Regulatory reforms that have been implemented or are being implemented, across multiple jurisdictions, such as in areas of digital and operational resilience, data and technology reforms, including AI, cyber security, capital, anti-money laundering and consumer protection continue to impact the Issuer's operations and strategies. Not managing this risk may negatively impact the Issuer's financial performance, condition and prospects.

Digital Disruption and Innovation: As the demand for digital banking services grows, the need to meet the rapidly evolving needs of clients and compete with traditional and non-traditional competitors has increased the Issuer's strategic and reputation risks. Additional risks continue to emerge as demographic trends, evolving client expectations, the increased power to analyze data and the emergence of disruptors are creating competitive pressures across a number of sectors. Moreover, established technology companies, new competitors, digital assets and other products and regulatory changes continue to foster new business models that could challenge traditional banks and financial products. The regulatory landscape of digital assets, in particular as it relates to stablecoins, has evolved materially in the past year across multiple jurisdictions. The Issuer is closely monitoring and assessing emerging risks associated with wider adoption of stablecoins by the market and the related regulatory requirements. Finally, while the adoption of new technologies, such as AI (including GenAI) and machine learning, presents opportunities for the Issuer, it is resulting or could result in new and complex strategic, operational, regulatory, compliance and related reputational risks that would need to be managed effectively. Not managing these risks may adversely impact the Issuer's financial performance and condition.

Where will the securities be traded?

Application has been made by the Issuer (or on its behalf) for the Notes to be listed and admitted to trading on the SIX Swiss Exchange.

What are the key risks that are specific to the securities?

Risks associated with the Notes include the following:

Modification and waivers: holders of the Notes are exposed to the risk that their rights in respect of the Notes are varied against their will, which may result in an investment in any Notes becoming less advantageous to a particular holder depending on individual circumstances.

Secondary market: an active secondary market in respect of the Notes may never be established or may be illiquid and this would adversely affect the value at which an investor could sell its Notes.

Exchange rate risk: if an investor holds Notes which are not denominated in the investor's home currency, the investor will be exposed to movements in exchange rate adversely affecting the value of the holding of Notes. Also the imposition of exchange controls or certain other specified events in relation to the Notes could result in an investor not receiving payment on the Notes.

Credit ratings: Credit ratings assigned to the Issuer or the Notes might not reflect all the risks associated with an investment in the Notes.

Risks relating to Reference Item Linked Notes: an investor's return (if any) will depend upon the performance of the Reference Item. An investment in the Notes entails significant risks that are not associated with similar investments in conventional debt or equity securities and in some circumstances the amount of interest payable on the Notes on an interest payment date may be zero and/or the value of the Notes and/or the amount paid at maturity may be less than the purchase price amount of the Notes and may be zero in which case an investor may lose some or all of the amount it invested in the Notes.

The Notes do not benefit from a protection amount: on the maturity date the amount payable in respect of the Notes may be less than the initial investment amount and purchasers of the Notes are exposed to full loss of their investment due to the lack of protection amount.

Cap on return: the maximum possible return on the Notes will be limited to principal amount of the Notes and the return will not increase even if the Reference Item outperforms the stated maximum return.

Market disruptions: the Calculation Agent may determine that a market disruption event or other adjustment event has occurred which may have an adverse effect on the value of or payment received with respect to the Notes and/or may delay applicable payments or settlement.

Risks relating to Index Linked Notes: the value of the Reference Item on any day will reflect the value of its constituents on such day. Changes in the composition of the Reference Item and factors which either affect or may affect the value of the constituents, will affect the value of the Reference Item and therefore may adversely affect the return on an investment in the Index Linked Notes.

Additional disruption events: if any of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption, Increased Cost of Hedging or Insolvency Filing occur, the Notes will be subject to adjustment or may be redeemed early. The amount due on such redemption may be substantially less than an investor's investment and may in certain circumstances be zero.

II. SIGNIFICANT RISKS FOR INVESTORS

RISKS
Product Risk	These Securities are capital at risk. This means there is a risk that you could lose your entire investment or part of it. These Securities are not guaranteed against losses by the Issuer, Dealer, their affiliates, the UK Financial Services Compensation Scheme or any equivalent European deposit guarantee scheme.
U.S. Withholding Tax on Dividend Equivalent Payments	The United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, treats a "dividend equivalent" payment as a dividend from sources within the United States. Unless reduced by an applicable tax treaty with the United States, such payments generally would be subject to U.S. withholding tax of 30% if paid to a non-U.S. holder. A non-U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of a Note that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is a non-resident alien individual, a foreign corporation, or a foreign estate or trust. Under recently finalized U.S. Treasury Department regulations, payments on certain equity-linked instruments (including deemed payments) that are contingent upon or determined by Reference to actual or estimated U.S. source dividends, (regardless of whether such contingency or determination is explicitly stated or implicitly taken into account in computing one or more of the terms of such instruments) may be treated as dividend equivalents subject to withholding tax. Withholding tax will apply to dividend equivalent payments on Notes issued or materially modified on or after January 1, 2017. If any payments are treated as dividend equivalent subject to withholding, we (or the applicable paying agent) would be required to withhold taxes and would not be required to pay any additional amounts with respect to amounts so withheld. Prospective investors of the Notes should consult their own tax advisers regarding the application of the U.S. rules for withholding on dividend equivalents.
Issuer Risk	Investors bear the issuer risk. The Security's value and the payment of any income or bonus amount (where one is payable) are dependent not only on the development of the Reference Item, but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, which may vary over the term of the Security. The ratings of the Issuer noted above reflect the independent opinion of the rating agencies as to the safety of payments of principal and interest. These ratings are not a guarantee of credit quality. The ratings do not take into consideration any risk associated with fluctuations in the market value of this Security, or where factors other than the Issuer's credit quality determine the level of principal and interest payments.
Reference Item	The value of the Security is linked to the Reference Item(s). The past performance of the Reference Item(s) is not an indication or guarantee of future performance. Any decision to invest in the Securities should not be based solely or primarily on the past performance of the Reference Item(s). The performance of the Reference Item(s) may be volatile and subject to unpredictable changes over the term of the Security. The investor should be prepared to assume this risk, including the potential risk of insolvency of the Reference Item(s) issuer(s). Fluctuations in price of the Reference Item(s) may result in the investor losing the entire investment or a substantial part of it. An investment in the Securities does not create a direct investment in the underlying Reference Item(s). Where the Reference Item(s) is an equity/basket of equities, the investor will not be eligible to receive dividend payments or any voting rights associated with a direct investment in the Reference Item(s).

FX Risk Quanto	This Security incorporates a Quanto feature because the currencies of the Reference Items are different to the currency of the Securities. This feature means that when calculating the return of the Securities, the performance of the Reference Items in their base currency is not adjusted to account for the exchange rate between the two currencies at such time. You should also be aware that movements in interest rates of both currencies will affect the valuation of a security using this feature. This exposure to currency exchange fluctuations may come at a cost or benefit to you depending on how currency exchange rates move during the term of the Security. Currency exchange rates may be volatile and subject to unpredictable changes over the term of the Security.
Liquidity Risk	The investor should be prepared to hold this Security until maturity should it not be called or terminated early, if such option exists, by the Issuer. The Dealer will, however, use its reasonable endeavours to provide liquidity to the Security (either directly or through an affiliate) but is not obliged to do so and may stop providing liquidity at any time without notice. This means an investor should not rely on having the ability to redeem the Security at a particular time or for a certain price. If the Security is redeemed early, the investor may get back less than the stated redemption amount. The Issue Price is not a direct reflection of the market value of the Security. The level at which the investor purchases the Security includes hedging costs and profits that the Dealer or its affiliates expect to incur or realize. The Issue Price may also include selling commissions paid by the Dealer to distributors and/or intermediaries. Any selling commissions, costs and profits will reduce the secondary market level, if any secondary market develops, for the Security. As a result, the investor may experience an immediate and substantial decline in the value of the Securities on the Issue Date.
Suitability	This termsheet is provided for information purposes only and should not be used as the sole or primary basis of any investment decision. Transactions of a type described herein, may involve a high degree of risk and may not be suitable for all investors. Transactions in the Securities should not be undertaken unless the prospective investor understands and is capable of bearing all of the risks associated with an investment in the Securities. Before entering into any transaction, potential investors should take steps to ensure they understand the transaction and have assessed the appropriateness of the transaction in light of their own objectives and circumstances, including the possible risks, benefits and also the tax implications of entering into this proposed transaction. The information in this termsheet does not constitute financial, tax or legal advice and should not be used as a substitute for seeking professional advice. The Dealer is acting as an arm's length counterparty and not as an advisor or fiduciary. It is strongly recommended that potential investors consult their own professional advisers. Conflicts of Interest Disclosure	RBC Capital Markets (Europe) GMBH ("RBCEG") forms part of a major banking group. It is therefore possible that RBCEG or one of its subsidiaries, or affiliates, or one of their officers, employees, representatives or agents (together "the Bank Group") or another client of the Bank Group may have interests, relationships and/or arrangements that give rise to conflicts of interest in relation to business that is transacted with you. Members of the Bank Group may perform a variety of roles in connection with the issuance. The Issuer, Dealer, or their affiliates may act as the Calculation Agent and may enter into positions in connection with the issuance. The Issuer, Dealer, or their affiliates may undertake hedging activity including trading in the Reference Item(s) or instruments related to the Reference Item(s), which may have an adverse impact on the value of the Securities. The Issuer, Dealer, or their affiliates may from time-to-time possess or have access to information concerning the Reference Item(s) and are under no obligation to disclose this information to investors. Any conflicts of interest will be managed in accordance with the Bank Group's established policies and procedures.

Tax Risk	An investment in the Securities may give rise to tax consequences. Any tax liability is dependent on the taxpayer's personal circumstances. The basis and level of any taxes may change during the term of the Security.
On-sale of Securities	It is strongly recommended that investors seek independent tax advice prior to an investment in the Securities. The Issuer, Dealer and members of the Bank Group do not provide tax advice. To the extent that any general information is provided with regard to tax, this is for information purposes only and should neither be construed as tax advice nor should it be relied on, or treated as a substitute for seeking independent tax advice.
Calculation of the Reference Index	N/A
Fees	The payment of any fee or commission by the Dealer is subject to the relevant regulatory requirements, including those applicable in the jurisdiction(s) that the Dealer and distributor operate in, as well as the jurisdiction(s) into which the Securities are distributed, if different. The Issue Price may include a fee or commission payable by the Dealer to a distributor or third party, such a fee or commission will be determined by a number of factors including but not limited to the maturity of the Security, hedging costs and legal fees. Any fee or commission received by the distributor or third party may be in addition to the fee normally charged by that party in connection with an investment in the Security. Further details in respect of the fee or commission are available upon request.

III. OTHER INFORMATION

SALES RESTRICTION

Accordingly, the Notes should not be sold or offered, directly or indirectly, to persons in any Relevant State except in circumstances which would not require the publication of a prospectus and any person making or intending to make an offer in that Relevant State of Notes should only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Issuer or RBC Capital Markets (Europe) GMBH to publish a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Regulation or supplement a prospectus pursuant to Article 23 of the Prospectus Regulation in relation to such offer. No recipient of this termsheet is authorized by any person to act in a way which would result in an offer to it being considered to be a placement through an intermediary for the purposes of the Prospectus Regulation.

1. What is this product?

Type

English law governed equity-linked notes / Return depends on the performance of the underlyings / No capital protection against market risk

Term

The product has a fixed term and will be due on 28 October 2030, subject to an early redemption.

Objectives

(Terms that appear in bold in this section are described in more detail in the table(s) below.)

The product is designed to provide a return in the form of (1) conditional interest payments and (2) a cash payment on termination of the product. The timing and amount of these payments will depend on the performance of the underlyings. If, at maturity, the final reference level of the worst performing underlying has fallen below its barrier level, the product may return less than the product notional amount or even zero.

Early termination following an autocall: The product will terminate prior to the maturity date if, on any autocall observation date, the reference level of the worst performing underlying is at or above the relevant autocall barrier level. On any such early termination, you will on the immediately following autocall payment date receive, in addition to any final interest payment, a cash payment equal to the autocall payment of EUR 1,000. No interest payments will be made on any date after such autocall payment date. The relevant dates and autocall barrier levels are shown in the table(s) below.

14 October 2030	21,398.636	9,749.264	Maturity date

Interest: If the product has not terminated early, on each interest payment date you will receive an interest payment of EUR 38.40 together with any previously unpaid interest payments if the reference level of the worst performing underlying is at or above its interest barrier level on the immediately preceding interest observation date. If this condition is not met, you will receive no interest payment on such interest payment date. The relevant dates are shown in the table(s) below.

Interest observation dates	Interest payment dates
13 April 2027	27 April 2027

15 April 2030	2 May 2030
14 October 2030	Maturity date

Termination on the maturity date: If the product has not terminated early, on the maturity date you will receive:

1. if the final reference level of the worst performing underlying is at or above its barrier level, a cash payment equal to EUR 1,000; or
2. if the final reference level of the worst performing underlying is below its barrier level, a cash payment directly linked to the performance of the worst performing underlying. The cash payment will equal (i) the product notional amount multiplied by (ii) (A) the final reference level of the worst performing underlying divided by (B) its strike level.

Under the product terms, certain dates specified above and below will be adjusted if the respective date is either not a business day or not a trading day (as applicable). Any adjustments may affect the return, if any, you receive.

The product terms also provide that if certain exceptional events occur (1) adjustments may be made to the product and/or (2) the issuer may terminate the product early. These events are specified in the product terms and principally relate to the underlyings, the product and the issuer. The return (if any) you receive on such early termination is likely to be different from the scenarios described above and may be less than the amount you invested.

Intended retail investor

The product is intended to be offered to retail investors who fulfil all of the criteria below:

1. they have basic knowledge and/or experience of investing in similar products which provide a similar market exposure and have the ability to understand the product and its possible risks and rewards, either independently or through professional advice;
2. they seek income, expect the movement in the underlyings to perform in a way that generates a favourable return, have an investment horizon of the recommended holding period specified below and understand that the product may terminate early;
3. they accept the risk that the issuer could fail to pay or perform its obligations under the product and they are able to bear a total loss of their investment; and
4. they are willing to accept a level of risk to achieve potential returns that is consistent with the summary risk indicator shown below.

2. What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product until 28 October 2030. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to sell your product easily or may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

To the extent the currency of the country in which you purchase this product or your account currency differs from the product currency, please be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Inflation erodes the purchasing value of cash over time and this may result in the decline in real terms of any capital reimbursed or interest you may be paid under the investment.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

For detailed information about all risks relating to the product please refer to the risk sections of the prospectus and any supplements thereto as specified in the section "7. Other relevant information" below.

Performance scenarios

What you will get from this product depends on future market performance. Market developments in the future are uncertain and cannot be accurately predicted.

The scenarios shown are illustrations based on results from the past and on certain assumptions. Markets could develop very differently in the future.

Recommended holding period:		Until the product is called or matures This may be different in each scenario and is indicated in the table
Example investment:		EUR 10,000
Scenarios		If you exit after 1 year	If you exit at call or maturity
Minimum	There is no minimum guaranteed return. You could lose some or all of your investment.
Stress (product ends after 4 years)	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	EUR 4,206 -57.94%	EUR 3,043 -25.71%
Unfavourable (product ends after 4 years)	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	EUR 9,093 -9.07%	EUR 6,617 -9.80%
Moderate (product ends after 1 year and 6 months)	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	EUR 10,528 5.28%	EUR 11,152 7.47%
Favourable (product ends after 3 years)	What you might get back after costs Average return each year	EUR 10,861 8.61%	EUR 12,304 7.14%

The favourable, moderate, unfavourable and stress scenarios represent possible outcomes that have been calculated based on simulations using the past performance of the underlyings over a period of up to 5 years. In the case of an early redemption, it has been assumed that no reinvestment has occurred. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances. This product cannot be easily cashed in. If you exit the investment earlier than the recommended holding period, you may have to pay extra costs.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.

3. What happens if the issuer is unable to pay out?

You are exposed to the risk that the issuer might be unable to meet its obligations in connection with the product for instance in the event of bankruptcy or an official directive for resolution action. This may materially adversely affect the value of the product and could lead to you losing some or all of your investment in the product. The product is not covered by any deposit protection scheme.

4. What are the costs?

The person advising on or selling you this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs and how they affect your investment.

Costs over time

The tables show the amounts that are taken from your investment to cover different types of costs. These amounts depend on how much you invest, how long you hold the product and how well the product does. The amounts shown here are illustrations based on an example investment amount and different investment periods.

The duration of this product is uncertain as it may terminate at different times depending on how the market evolves. The amounts shown here consider two different scenarios (early call and maturity). In case you decide to exit before the product ends, exit costs may apply in addition to the amounts shown here.

We have assumed:

- EUR 10,000 is invested
- a performance of the product that is consistent with each holding period shown.

	If the product is called at the first possible date, on 27 October 2027	If the product reaches maturity
Total costs	EUR 71	EUR 71
Annual cost impact*	0.77% each year	0.18% each year

*This illustrates how costs reduce your return each year over the holding period. For example it shows that if you exit at maturity your average return per year is projected to be 3.82% before costs and 3.63% after costs.

We may share part of the costs with the person selling you the product to cover the services they provide to you. They will inform you of the amount.

Composition of costs

	One-off costs upon entry or exit	If you exit after 1 year
Entry costs	0.71% of the amount you pay when entering this investment. These costs are already included in the price you pay.	EUR 71
Exit costs	0.50% of your investment before it is paid out to you. These costs are already included in the price you receive and are only incurred if you exit before maturity. If an early redemption occurs or if you hold the product until maturity, no exit costs will be incurred.	EUR 50

5. How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Recommended holding period: 4 years

The product aims to provide you with the return described under “1. What is this product?” above. However, this only applies if the product is held to maturity. It is therefore recommended that the product is held until 28 October 2030 (maturity), although the product may terminate early.

The product does not guarantee the possibility to disinvest other than by selling the product either (1) through the exchange (if the product is exchange traded) or (2) off-exchange, where an offer for such product exists. Save as otherwise disclosed in exit costs (see section "4. What are the costs?" above), no fees or penalties will be charged by the issuer for any such transaction, however an execution fee might be chargeable by your broker if applicable. By selling the product before its maturity, you may receive back less than you would have received if you had kept the product until maturity.

Exchange listing	SIX Swiss Exchange	Price quotation	Percentage
Smallest tradable unit	EUR 1,000

In volatile or unusual market conditions, or in the event of technical faults/disruptions, the purchase and/or sale of the product can be temporarily hindered and/or suspended and may not be possible at all.

6. How can I complain?

Any complaint regarding the conduct of the person advising on, or selling, the product can be submitted directly to that person.

Any complaint regarding the product or the conduct of the manufacturer of this product can be submitted in writing at the following address: 100 Bishopsgate, London, EC2N 4AA, by email to: KID_Complaints@rbccm.com or at the following website: https://www.rbcpriips.eu.
